THE PARISH AS ONE BODY

*“If the whole body were an eye, where would the hearing be?
If the whole body were hearing, where would the sense of smell be?
But as it is, God placed the parts, each one of them, in the body as he intended...
The eye cannot say to the hand, ‘I do not need you,’ nor again the head to the feet, ‘I do not need you.’
Indeed, the parts of the body that seem to be weaker are all the more necessary.
Now you are Christ’s body, and individually parts of it.”* (1 Cor. 12:17-25)

The Seven Essential Elements of Parish Life constantly interrelate, each nurturing and supporting the other with the communal celebration of Sunday Eucharist at the center.

~ FROM THE PASTOR ~

We all have high expectations of each other. We want our spouse to be the best, our children the smartest, our relatives amiable, our co-workers friendly, our neighbors good. Expectations are part of everyday reality. We expect to be happy, reasonably healthy, financially secure, and successful in our endeavors.

When expectations are not met or at least seem unrealistic or unfulfilled, we can be discouraged and either abandon the quest or resign ourselves to a feeling of mediocrity. Expectations can be a slippery slope. On the one hand we need to expect great things from each other as parents, family members, co-workers, parishioners, leaders, clergy, etc. On the other hand we also need to know that sometimes these expectations will simply not be met or at least postponed.

The key to understanding expectations in any part of life is to be aware of human frailty. As much as we would all like to be perfect and to expect perfection of others, our view is limited. We see in this life only "dimly" as St. Paul reminds us. Be that as it may, this does not mean we abandon our quest for excellence. We can always be better, and do better, and expect better. One of the most damaging statements heard over and over again in times of transition is, "That's not how we do it" or "That's the way we have always done it."

Patience is a key mind set when struggling with how to make things better. In any walk of life whether in the business world or family life or parish life the quest for betterment needs to be tempered with patience. When we close ourselves off from dialogue or trust that things will be better and can be better, we stay stuck.

There is also another way we can approach the quest for achievement...the inner smile. What the inner smile does it reminds us not to take ourselves too seriously. Yes, we are on a quest but since we are not perfect and others are not perfect, we can accept our limitations even in the midst of hard work.

I am reminded of a story told by Father Anthony de Mello, S.J. He writes: A man walked into a doctor's office and said, "Doctor, I have this awful headache that never leaves me. Could you give me something for it?" "I will," said the doctor, "but I want to check a few things out first. Tell me, do you drink a lot of liquor?" "Liquor?" said the man indignantly, "I never touch the filthy stuff." "How about smoking?" "I think smoking is disgusting. I've never in my life touched tobacco." "I'm a bit embarrassed to ask this, but---you know the way some men are---do you do any running around at night?" "Of course not. What do you take me for? I'm in bed every night by ten o'clock at the latest." "Tell me," said the doctor, "this pain in the head you speak of, is it a sharp, shooting kind of pain?" "Yes," said the man. "That's it---a sharp, shooting kind of pain." "Simple, my dear fellow! Your trouble is you have your halo on too tight. All we need to do for you is loosen it a bit."

In the months ahead we will be hearing more and more about how we can become visionary people not with a "halo" but in our imperfection. We will hear about goals, vision, change, betterment, growth, cooperation, trust, collaboration, partnership, faith formation, financial security, spirituality. We will move forward together or we will stay the same apart. I need to trust you and those in positions of leadership and you need to trust me as your pastor.

When we become "Servant Leaders" to one another we put aside our own agendas or biases and embrace the common good of all. The pastor has been commissioned to make sure that the sacraments are celebrated with dignity, the faithful educated in the ways of our faith and tradition, the corporal works of mercy applied, and the daily life of the parish governed with charity. In collaboration with the faithful, those chosen to be leaders, and the ordained ministers, the pastor in union with the Bishop of the Diocese by whose authority he is appointed as shepherd is an "...indispensable helper and adviser in the ministry and in the task of teaching, sanctifying and shepherding the People of God."

I wish to extend my heartfelt gratitude to our Parish Pastoral Council, staff members, and parishioners who came together and planned for the wonderful reception and celebration of my 45th anniversary of Servite priesthood last Sunday. Thank you for your cards and those of you who were kind and generous with a gift and supportive words. My special thanks to the celebration chairpeople; Alberta Saran & Jan Fontes - along with Bob Dietterle and all the Pastoral Council members for their attention to details in making this day special. Thanks also to Terry and Donna Reinbold for taking photos.

Our school children decorated cards, and while it took some time to go through all of them, I have to say I enjoyed reading their unassuming and loving words. The children are my joy! I'd like to share a few with you. Little Shane wrote, "Congratulations on your anniversary. I hope you are happy because I am." Little Nathan wrote, "By golly that's you! Have a good one." Garrett wrote, "Happy 45th anniversary on your ordination into the priesthood. It is a really fantastic accomplishment." Caroline wrote, "Let God lead you out of the darkness. Always believe in God. Never lose faith." Kaleigh writes: "Congrats! I hope your ordination day is filled with fun! Have cookies in the shapes of crosses." Lastly, "Happy 45th ordination anniversary! Thank you for devoting your life for 45 years to teaching children like us and adults the word of God. Thank you for helping us understand what God's message is more fully. I hope you always love what you are doing and never stop! Thank you! Your friend, Jessica."

Congratulations to our children who received their First Holy Communion this past Saturday. My prayer is that they will continue to love coming to Mass and receiving the precious Body and Blood of Our Lord. Parents, continue to form your children through good example. Bring them to church every Sunday.

In the Joy of Our Faith,

Fr. Frank Falco, O.S.M.
Pastor

"GET ON THE BUS" - follow-up info

...a note from the Executive Director for Get On The Bus.

"On behalf of the children served by Get On The Bus, thank you for your generous donation of $11,271.21 (from the March 2012 GOTB Dinner and Benefit Concert) that will be utilized to unite children with their parents in prison. Your continued support of our work is very much appreciated, and as such we wanted to provide you with a brief update of our 2012 GOTB program planning to date:

- 1.) This year we've received more GOTB applications from families than ever before - an increase of 12%. We've added New Folsom as a prison partnership, which brings us to 10 participating prisons.
- 2.) Our GOTB visits began with the first Mother's Day event at California Institute for Women in Corona on May 5th, and will end with the last three Father's Day events on June 16th at Salinas Valley Prison, California Training Facility and Solano Prison.
- 3.) Approximately 1,000 volunteers statewide will assist in the many details and activities necessary to provide GOTB visitations at 10 prisons.

Thank you for helping families cope with the stress, isolation and grief created by the separation of a parent due to incarceration. It is noted that prisoners that receive even one visit during incarceration are less likely to commit another felony upon release and are less likely to end up back in prison.

...thank you again for your support."

MARY'S JOURNEY

CATHOLIC CHARITIES AUXILIARY WOMAN OF THE YEAR

With great pride, annually the Catholic Charities Auxiliary recognizes generous women who abundantly volunteer their time and talent to serve - not only their parish, but also the communities they live in. This year, St. Juliana Parish has nominated parishioner Nina Visconti, and Rosary High School has nominated parishioner Tracey Irving as candidates for the Catholic Woman-of-the-Year Volunteer Award.

Nominees will be recognized at a luncheon on Thursday, May 24th. Tickets for the luncheon are $65 per person. For info on how to attend this luncheon, and support our nominees, contact Reservation Chairperson, Evangeline Gawronski at 714-541-8971 or e-mail Ray30@prodigy.net.

Come support Nina and Tracey!
