The vision of St. Juliana Falconieri Catholic Community is to live as a people of God with Christ at the center of our lives through liturgy, faith formation and community.

THE PARISH AS ONE BODY

*"If the whole body were an eye, where would the hearing be?
If the whole body were hearing, where would the sense of smell be?
But as it is, God placed the parts, each one of them, in the body as he intended...
The eye cannot say to the hand, 'I do not need you,' nor again the head to the feet, 'I do not need you.'
Indeed, the parts of the body that seem to be weaker are all the more necessary.
Now you are Christ's body, and individually parts of it."* (1 Cor. 12:17-25)

The Seven Essential Elements of Parish Life constantly interrelate, each nurturing and supporting the other with the communal celebration of Sunday Eucharist at the center.

The following article was printed in the OC Catholic newspaper, November 5, 2017. I found it not only very good but very important. I have permission to re-print it here. I have read the book Bishop Barron references and found it to be excellent.

THE LEAST RELIGIOUS GENERATION IN U.S. HISTORY: A REFLECTION ON JEAN TWENGE'S "IGEN"

by Bishop Robert Barron

October 24, 2017

Jean Twenge's book iGen is one of the most fascinating—and depressing—texts I've read in the past decade. A professor of psychology at San Diego State University, Dr. Twenge has been, for years, studying trends among young Americans, and her most recent book focuses on the generation born between 1995 and 2012. Since this is the first cohort of young people who have never known a world without iPads and iPhones, and since these devices have remarkably shaped their consciousness and behavior, Twenge naturally enough has dubbed them the "iGen."

Bishop Robert Barron

One of her many eye-opening findings is that iGen'ers are growing up much more slowly than their predecessors. A baby-boomer typically got his driver's license on his sixteenth birthday (I did); but an iGen'er is far more willing to postpone that rite of passage, waiting until her eighteenth or nineteenth year. Whereas previous generations were eager to get out of the house and find their own way, iGen'ers seem to like to stay at home with their parents and have a certain aversion to "adulting." And Twenge argues that smartphones have undeniably turned this new generation in on itself. A remarkable number of iGen'ers would rather text their friends than go out with them and would rather watch videos at home than go to a theater with others. One of the upshots of this screen-induced introversion is a lack of social skills and another is depression.

Now there are many more insights that Dr. Twenge shares, but I was particularly interested, for obvious reasons, in her chapter on religious attitudes and behaviors among iGen'ers. In line with many other researchers, Twenge shows that the objective statistics in this area are alarming. As recently as the 1980s, 90% of high school seniors identified with a religious group. Among iGen'ers, the figures are now around 65% and falling. And religious practice is even more attenuated: only 28% of twelfth graders attended services in 2015, whereas the number was 40% in 1976. For decades, sociologists of religion have been arguing that, though explicit affiliation with religious institutions was on the decline, especially among the young, most people remained "spiritual," that is to say, convinced of certain fundamental religious beliefs. I remember many conversations with my friend Fr. Andrew Greeley along these lines.

But Twenge indicates that this is no longer true. Whereas even twenty years ago, the overwhelming number of Americans, including youngsters, believed in God, now fully one third of 18 to 24 year olds say that they don't believe. As late as 2004, 84% of young adults said that they regularly prayed; by 2016, fully one fourth of that same age cohort said that they never pray. We find a similar decline in regard to acceptance of the Bible as the Word of God: one fourth of iGen'ers say that the Scriptures are a compilation of "ancient fables, legends, history, and moral precepts recorded by men." Her dispiriting conclusion: "The waning of private religious belief means that young generations' disassociation from religion is not just about their distrust of institutions; more are disconnecting from religion entirely, even at home and even in their hearts."

Now what are some of the reasons for this disconnect? One, Twenge argues, is the iGen preoccupation with individual choice. From their earliest years, iGen'ers have been presented with a dizzying array of choices in everything from food and clothes to gadgets and lifestyles. And they have been encouraged, by practically every song, video, and movie, to believe in themselves and follow their own dreams. All of this self-preoccupation and stress upon individual liberty stands sharply athwart the religious ideal of surrendering to God and his purposes. "My life, my death, my choice" (a rather iGen friendly motto which I recently saw emblazoned on a billboard in California) sits very uneasily indeed with St. Paul's assertion, "whether we live or we die, we are the Lord's." A second major reason for iGen dissatisfaction with religion is one that has surfaced in lots of surveys and polls, namely, that religious belief is incompatible with a scientific view of the world. One young man that Twenge interviewed is typical: "Religion, at least to people my age, seems like it's something of the past. It seems like something that isn't modern." Another said, "I knew from church that I couldn't believe in both science and God, so that was it. I didn't believe in God anymore." And a third—also attested to in lots of studies—is the "antigay attitudes" supposedly endemic to Biblical Christianity. One of Twenge's interviewees put it with admirable succinctness: "I'm questioning the existence of God. I stopped going to church because I'm gay and was part of a gay-bashing religion." One survey stated the statistical truth bluntly enough: 64% of 18-24 year olds believed that Christianity is antigay, and for good measure, 58% of those iGen'ers thought the Christian religion is hypocritical.

Dismal stuff, I know. But Dr. Twenge performs a great service to all those interested in the flourishing of religion, for she lays out the objectivities unblinkingly, and this is all to the good, given our extraordinary capacity for wishful thinking and self-deception. Further, though she doesn't tell religious educators and catechists how to respond, she unambiguously indicates what is leading this most unreligious generation in our history away from the churches. Her book should be required reading for those who wish to evangelize the next generation.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL - NEWS

Toy Drive information

Thanks to our generous St. Juliana community, purchasing all of the toys for the registered children in our district has been spoken for by our Small Christian Communities and various parishioners! Thank you to all. It will be a Christmas full of smiles!

If you still would like to help local families in need this Christmas and are unsure of how to contribute, we welcome your gifts. You may either:

1. Pick up a "gift tag" in the Parish Office on or after November 27th that will indicate the first name, gender, and age of a teenager in our community whose family has registered with St. Vincent de Paul for assistance this Christmas. You can return this tag to the Parish Center on December 11th from 4-7pm or December 12th from 8-10am with a $15 check made out to "St. Juliana Saint Vincent de Paul." This monetary contribution will be used to purchase a gift card for that teen.
2. Pick up a "gift tag" in the Parish Office on or after November 27th that is assigned to a family-in-need registered with St. Vincent de Paul. You can return this tag to the Parish Center on December 11th from 4-7pm or December 12th from 8-10am with a $20 check made out to "St. Juliana Saint Vincent de Paul." This monetary contribution will be used to purchase a grocery store gift card for that family.
3. Write a check for any amount you wish, made out to "St. Juliana St. Vincent de Paul," indicate in the memo line that this money should be used for the Christmas Food and Toy Drive and place it in the Sunday Collection, or drop off at the Parish Office, or come by the Parish Center on December 11th or 12th!
4. Buy a toy for any boy or girl of any age (suggested amount of $15-$20) and bring it wrapped to the St. Juliana Parish Center on December 11th from 4-7pm or on December 12th from 8-10am and we will deliver it to a local organization that works with those in need.

WE GIVE THANKS AND PRAISE!

Our young kindergarten children have a special tradition of celebrating Thanksgiving with their own "feast". We have so many things to be thankful for! God love and bless our teachers and family members who show our children examples of gratitude, service and how to love.

St. Juliana children giving thanks!

FALCON GALA 2018

It's almost time for the 2018 Gala! Save the date for Saturday February 3rd, as we celebrate Mardi Gras, St. Juliana style! We would love to have our St. Juliana family as we honor Mrs. Mary Santoni as this year's Falconieri Award recipient. It will be a fun night of jazz, dinner, dancing, drinks and of course raising money for the school.

Keep your eyes posted to the weekly bulletin for information on purchasing tickets or even a table!

Also if you own a business or know someone who does that would like to donate please let us know at thegala@stjulianaschool.org.

All proceeds go directly to the school to help continue some amazing programs at our wonderful school.

Thanks and we hope to see you there!

GIVING THANKS DINNERS

Oh behalf of the Servite friars, staff and community of St. Juliana, thank you to all who helped cooked, who volunteered, and helped prepare for three amazing Giving Thanks Dinners.

We give all honor and praise to God, unceasingly. It was good for us to come together, in this month of thanksgiving, to give praise to God and celebrate together! We pray the sense of gratitude continues to inspire us to do the good work God has planned for us. God Bless!

ARMORY NEWS

Our local Armory opens soon. This is an area where the homeless of our community can come to seek refuge in the evenings during the Winter months. Parishioners from our community go to the Armory on a regular basis. Please help them to provide some of the following items for the homeless people and families they will be serving:

Warm clothing (new or used), Winter coats (new or used), New socks, New underwear (men and women).

All clothing can be left in the large bins and shelves at the Parish Center (south east corner) by the St. Vincent de Paul Office or brought to the Parish Office. Thank you for your generosity.

BOYS CONSIDERING SERVITE HIGH SCHOOL

You're invited to come and learn about the Servite Difference - our unique approach to forming Faith-Filled Leaders.

Sunday, December 3, from 12pm-4pm.

Please RSVP at www.DiscoverServite.com

GIVING "ONLINE"

In the world we live in, few of us carry cash or have our checkbooks handy - we use electronic forms of paying for many things. Have you ever considered donating to the Church electronically? Simply go to the parish website at www.stjulianachurch.org and click the blue box titled GIVING ONLINE, the process is easy to follow.

Register and begin on-line giving today! It's a lot easier than remembering your checkbook. Consider end-of year tax deductions and charitable giving as the 2017 year comes to a close.

We are most gracious for your generosity.

CORAZON NEWS

Help build a house in Mexico for a family in need!

Exciting News! A former St. Juliana parishioner who moved out of state has donated the entire amount of money needed to build a Corazon house! Although they cannot go, they have requested that parishioners at St. Juliana Falconieri be given the opportunity to go to Tijuana, Mexico to experience building a house for a family in need. The build will take place on Saturday, May 5, 2018. A private bus will be provided for a nominal fee per person. We will be transported in and out of Mexico to and from Chula Vista, CA that same day. Because of Corazon's safety record, the Diocese of Orange now permits group travel by bus to Mexico to build a house. U.S Customs requires a passport to re-enter the U.S. The Corazon website is www.corazon.org. Registration begins the first week of January, 2018. Doug and Jean Knudson will coordinate the trip. If you have any questions or are interested call 714-992-2905, or visit us at the Ministry Fair on November 19th.
