THE PARISH AS ONE BODY

*"If the whole body were an eye, where would the hearing be?
If the whole body were hearing, where would the sense of smell be?
But as it is, God placed the parts, each one of them, in the body as he intended...
The eye cannot say to the hand, 'I do not need you,' nor again the head to the feet, 'I do not need you.'
Indeed, the parts of the body that seem to be weaker are all the more necessary.
Now you are Christ's body, and individually parts of it."* (1 Cor. 12:17-25)

The Seven Essential Elements of Parish Life constantly interrelate, each nurturing and supporting the other with the communal celebration of Sunday Eucharist at the center.

Each day I give my parents thanks for having the good sense to have moved from Chicago to Orange County before I came along. I especially like to spend time at the Pacific Ocean, it calms me. And like John Denver, sunshine on my shoulders makes me happy. I am also grateful that Walt Disney founded Disneyland here. Both open my eyes wide.

Wide open eyes. That's what this Sunday's Gospel lesson is all about.

I have an annual pass to Disneyland, I grew up about two miles from "THE HAPPIEST PLACE ON EARTH." I worked there for three years, until I was fired – non-re-hire-ably so. (Don't ask!) I get good use out of my pass. Often I just sit along Main Street and listen to the chap play his piano. I also watch parents and kids beginning or ending their day. The interaction or lack of it is often an eye-full. "Daddy! Look!" the kid with saucer eyes screams when he finds an intriguing creation of the "Imagine-ears." "If we stop now, we won't get to Splash Mountain" replies the dad as he tugs his youngster down Main Street without any care for his son's adventure into fantasy. The kid stops, resolutely, unbendingly, and cries big buckets of tears. That's when the parent really sees the child and his amazement. That's when the boy becomes more important than Splash Mountain, the time of day, or even the admission fee. Wisely, then they stand, hand-in-hand, and notice the magic. And a whole lot more; the gift of fatherhood and son-ship.

If most of us could find just ten or fifteen minutes a day, out of the whirlwind of demands, time to really see what's really important, I bet there'd be fewer divorces, less cheating, fewer unwanted pregnancies, less racism, fewer wars, less criticism, more acceptance, and louder laughter.

As George tells Lenny in Of Mice and Men, "It's not wicked people that cause the problems. It's dumb people." And truer words were never spoken.

Shouldn't the Christian tempt all people to open their eyes, to freely see and freely do the truth? To live life in a sanctified way? Do it whenever the unpredictable arises. Not because Christians have all the answers in a book, but because they have the way to think embedded in their minds and the need to be decent embedded in their hearts. That is the glory of God: Humankind fully alive.

Basically, it doesn't matter what you stop to see before you get to Splash Mountain.

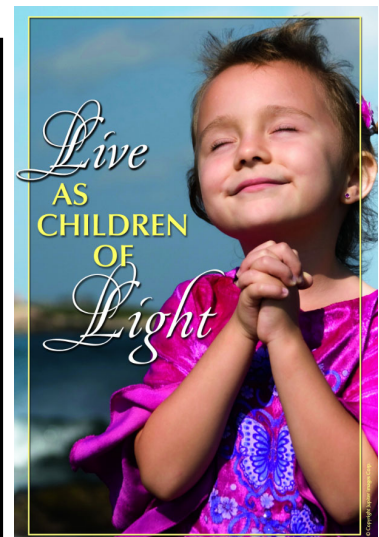

Lenten confessions for the grammar school students will take place Friday, March 31st right after the 8:00AM Mass until about 10:00AM. Feel free to join them. The schedule for the Sacrament of Penance in the Deanery is posted (on page 5) in this bulletin.

CHILDREN OF THE LIGHT

The future king, David, in today's first reading, is an example of a type of character present throughout the Hebrew scriptures. He is the child born out of place (not the eldest or most favored) who ends up receiving the promise of the covenant. The spirit of God's anointing rushes upon him. In this way, he is similar to the man born blind from today's Gospel. David's family and the blind man's community did not expect the miraculous grace of God's love to work through them. Perhaps they, too, were "blinded" by the expectations and assumptions of those around them. Yet, after being touched by God, they both came to "see" the presence of God's will for them. Both became messengers of God's will. That same Spirit of God's anointing rushed upon us at our baptism; we were given a candle as a sign of our membership in the Body of Christ, the Light from Light. Our vocation, then, is to fulfill that enlightenment, that anointing, as Ephesians tells us, by living as "children of the light."

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS RECRUITMENT DRIVE—APRIL 2ND

Have you been looking for a means of furthering your faith? Do you wish to better serve your parish and neighboring community? Are you searching for a sense of Catholic fellowship and togetherness? If yes, then have you considered being a Knight of Columbus? The Knights of Columbus Council of St. Juliana welcomes all members of the parish to come and learn how the Knights help our community and how the men of our parish can help the Knights in their goals.

The Knights of Columbus will be holding a recruitment drive after the morning Masses on April 2nd in the Parish Center. This will be an opportunity to speak with various members, teams, and committees within the Knights who will be able to share their experiences and just how you can enter into the works that the Council is a part of. This will also be a chance to watch some videos concerning the Knights, to learn about the history of the St. Juliana Council, and to speak with a Knights of Columbus insurance representative. Please come by for coffee and donuts and a chance to see how the Knights can provide an outlet for Catholic faith, charity, and fellowship.

MORE CORAZON NEWS

On Friday, March 3rd, Juana and her family received insulation and drywall in their Corazon house. The project was sponsored by several individual families from St. Juliana Church. Juana is a smart, energetic, responsible person who has taken advantage of the many opportunities Corazon provides to enhance her life. She is the eldest of 16 children who helped to take care of her family by selling candy and gum at the fairs as a little child, and later helping her father with construction projects as a young teen. At age 16 she married and moved with her husband to Tijuana for better opportunities. She found Corazon. Since then, she has worked to receive benefits including two Corazon houses to accommodate her family of five children, plus extended family. Her husband also works hard as a construction worker. Their eldest daughter became a nurse as a result of a Corazon scholarship. Juana herself, who never attended school, has finished an eighth grade education and is currently taking high school courses. Juana is grateful to her sponsors for their generosity. If you would like to help a family like Juana's call Doug and Jean Knudson at 714-992-2905.

CROP WALK FOR HUNGER - SUNDAY APRIL 30TH

This is just a friendly save the date for this year's CROP Hunger Walk, which will be held on 4/30/2017! If you're planning on participating, the website is live at www.crophungerwalk.org/fullertonca, along with more information about the walk as we near the date.

Why do we walk each year? We know that by bringing food to families in times of scarcity and by bringing water to communities in times of drought, we are helping people both in our own community and around the world reclaim their livelihoods so they aren't forced to look elsewhere. On CWS's side of things, the need is greater than ever this year to stand together as we seek to preempt the extreme situations that prevent displacement and refugee status. Given the current climate, we are attentive that we may need to increase capacity of resources in refugee camps/services so that food, water and shelter can continue to be safely and sustainably provided to those who are vulnerable. CROP walks are an incredibly meaningful outlet to providing these resources (and the flexibility to respond), with symbolism in the walk itself at a time when an unprecedented number of people do, indeed, have to walk for resources and safety. There is power in a walk. Go out to the website and register to walk!

For more information about the programs you're helping support, feel free to check out the programs tab on CWS's 2016 annual report, located here: <http://cwsannualreport.org/>.
